EDUC 460.03: Specialization I Elementary English Language Arts
Winter, 2023*Class Dates: Monday, January 8th – Friday, March 8th 2023Last Day to Add/Drop/Swap: Due to the non-standard dates associated with this program, please check your Student Centre for the important dates pertaining to your section.Pre-requisite: Due to the multiple pathways in the Bachelor of Education, please consult Undergraduate Programs in Education for questions related to pre-requisite courses.Office Hours: By appointment only – can occur in person or via Teams (details to come in class)Email: Please note that students are required to use a University of Calgary (@ucalgary.ca) email address for all correspondence.COURSE DESCRIPTION:

The intent of the Specialization I Seminar is to introduce students to the concepts, theory, and design planning related to teaching within the specializations of Elementary English Language Arts. Theory, as connected to an understanding of practical classroom experiences, will particularly inform the course curriculum and will be explored through course readings, analysis of teaching/learning artifacts, and through the design of discipline-based learning and assessment plans. Topics in teaching and learning will include teaching inclusively and addressing the needs of diverse learners, effective integration of technology, and discipline-based inquiry. Assignments will present the opportunity for students to develop an understanding of short-term instructional design and to begin to examine curriculum shifts in the province.

LEARNER OUTCOMES:

Students will:

- 1) Develop a foundational understanding of the nature of discourse in the discipline, as related to teaching and learning, including specialized language, concepts, and terminology.
- 2) Understand teacher as designer of learning and assessment plans and use of the resources available for designing learning and assessment.
- 3) Explore and apply introductory theory related to the teaching of the discipline with an emphasis on designing discipline-based tasks and assessment processes and creating an adaptive classroom learning environment to better meet the needs of today's diverse learners.
- 4) Successfully design short-term learning and assessment plans to deepen understanding of key ideas/concepts within the discipline.

COURSE DESIGN AND DELIVERY: This course will be delivered face-to-face on campus with possible engagement in a D2L environment. However, the use of D2L will primarily consist of the creation of a repository for instructional materials/resources. Important announcements related to the course and its content will also be posted on D2L and shared via UCalgary email, please check both regularly during the course.

LEARNING TASKS AND ASSESSMENT

There are 3 required Learning Tasks for this course.

LEARNING TASK 1: Daily In-Class Seminars DUE: Ongoing (as per sign up), (30% of Final Grade)

Requirements: 2 Inquiry Questions Used in Conjunction with a Classroom Discussion & Activity

Each student is expected to complete one first word throughout the semester. On the day of your First Word, you will hand in a hard copy of your discussion questions, along with a 1–2 page summary (Times New Roman, Double Spaced, APA 7 Formatting) detailing how you planned to provide a lively discussion. Only one submission per partner/group (put both names on it please).

Working with a partner you will choose a topic area and reading from the syllabus. Working together, you will be responsible for the creation of two discussion questions that arise from the topic area and your chosen reading. These questions will then be presented to the class in the form of an activity that both partners will facilitate – you must facilitate the class for at least 30 minutes (to a maximum of 45 minutes). You are required to choose interactive modalities that engage the class beyond a lecture style. Please contact the instructor if you have questions, concerns, or require any support beyond the planning.

Please Note: Your discussion questions should not ask the class to describe what happened in the reading (descriptive questions), but should instead ask the class to think about the issues at stake, extrapolate from the article possible practical situations related to the issue, or to deeply engage with the author’s point of view (analytical questions). Other than that caveat, what you ask is completely up to you.

The approach you take to your discussion questions is completely up to you. You may pose one question at a time, offer the two questions at once, offer an interpretation that ties them together, offer individual reactions to each question, disagree with other members on your team, divide the class up into different groups, etc. However, please be very careful not to spend too much time answering your own questions. You want to facilitate discussion from your classmates and focus your attention on running the activity and discussion.

CRITERIA FOR ASSESSMENT OF LEARNING TASK ONE

Task: Identify a key theme/takeaway from the reading by generating two (2) discussion questions and one (1) interactive activity. Conduct a 30 minute activity with the class that goes beyond a lecture style.

Please Note: This assignment is pass/fail and must be completed in full to receive the 30% for this learning task. Support will be provided in exceptional circumstances, however, incomplete assignments will result in a 0.

Criterion	Qualities of Exemplary Work	Complete/Incomplete	Comments
Preparation	Reviews questions with the instructor the day prior to the class (minimum).
Content	The focus of the reading is clear (summary is concise) Students explore multiple perspectives Clear connections to literacy theories, pedagogies, and practices
Discussion/Debate Methods	Uses varied teaching practices to engage peers with the content The discussion is guided, balanced (all voices heard), and summarized by facilitators

	Activities make use of interactive modalities that engage the class beyond a lecture style
Discussion Questions & Connections to Literature	Questions asked are analytical, thought-provoking, and understandable Facilitators refer directly to the readings & encourage peers to reference readings directly in responses
Facilitation Skills	Facilitators demonstrate: Eye contact Active listening Paraphrasing Summarizing Encouragement of full participation from the class

LEARNING TASK 2: Language Arts Lesson Plan Project DUE: Monday, January 30th @ 11:59 PM (MST)

Working individually, you will create a lesson plan of 30 to 50-minutes (depending on the grade level you select) that reflects outcomes from the English Language Arts Program of Studies. You will create one lesson plan for this assignment and then you will expand upon this lesson in the upcoming Language Arts Short Term Learning & Assessment Plan learning task. You will be expected to draw upon class discussions, readings, and resources when creating your lesson. On Friday, January 20th you will all share your lessons (thus far) during a check-in activity – this will be a great opportunity to receive feedback from me as well as your peers.

Please include the following elements in your lesson plan:

- Clear learning outcomes that promote an understanding of a key concept, skill, or competency in elementary English Language Arts (Be careful not to overload your lessons with outcomes!)
 - A lesson title and topic
 - Program of Studies objectives (both a general outcome and specific learner outcome)
 - Knowledge and skill objectives for the students
 - The grade level of the lesson
 - A detailed description of the learning experience activity and instructional strategies
 - Options for student inclusion/differentiation
 - A list of all required resources and materials (cited at the end of the lesson using APA 7th edition)
 - A fully developed timeline detailing the timing of the lesson for both students and teachers
 - Inclusion of all formative and summative assessment strategies that link to your lesson plan objectives and the Alberta Program of Studies
 - Note: The learning activity may be formative or summative

A UDL Template for your lesson will be provided on D2L, however, this can act as a good checklist.

LEARNING TASK 3: Language Arts Short Term Learning & Assessment Plan DUE: Friday, March 8^h @ 11:59 PM (MST)

Having created a lesson plan in the previous learning task, you are now asked to work individually to design a short-term learning and assessment plan that puts into practice the key aspects of theory introduced in this course. You must inform me of the topic/unit you hope to explore within your short-term learning and assessment plan by Friday, February 3rd. On Friday, February 17th you will all share your short-term learning and assessment plans (thus far) during a check-in activity – this will be a great opportunity to receive feedback.

Part One: The Learning Plan - The learning plan must include:

Title, Grade Level, and Big Idea – Clearly articulate the context of the short-term plan within the Alberta Program of Studies, including the title and grade level. Also, clearly articulate the big idea, vision, or theme the short-term plan seeks to leave students with through this curricular engagement.

Guiding Question(s) – Identify one or more well-crafted question(s) guiding the short-term learning. Provide a context for the selection of the questions. A short-term plan lasts 2-4 weeks so aiming for 2-3 questions is ideal.

Learning Outcomes – The short-term plan must identify and address one or more outcomes from each domain within the Alberta Program of Studies (i.e., Knowledge & Understanding, and Skills & Processes). In addition, the short-term plan must include the key ideas from the Alberta Program of Studies this learning engages. It should be clear what the students should know, be able to do, and appreciate more deeply by the end of the learning.

Lesson Plan Sequence (3 Full Lessons with Supplemental Activities Planned) – Each lesson supports the next, working toward mastery of the short-term plan's learning outcomes. Learning events engage students and challenge them to reflect, rethink and refine their work/ideas/understandings. Students must have opportunities to self-evaluate. Three lessons (one of which can be taken from your Learning Task Two assignment) must be included in full detail. These lessons should exist in sequence with one another. Some additional learning activities or follow up learning should also be included around the lessons. These can be written as assignments, readings, or additional evaluations/check-in's details to be provided in class.

List of Sources - List all sources consulted in the preparation of the short-term plan. Multiple sources are expected. Present a reference page in APA 7 format. Formatting will impact assessment – aim for between 10 – 15 sources.

List of Materials – Provide a list of all materials needed to teach the entire short-term plan, including materials in both the fully developed lessons as well as materials needed for all supplemental and supporting learning.

Part Two: The Assessment Plan - The assessment plan must include:

Short-Term Plan Rationale - Provide a rationale on your personal vision for language arts education and how this specific short-term plan reflects that vision (250-500 words).

Key Instructional Practices and Creativity – Detail the main methods for teaching throughout the short-term plan (500-750 words).

Specify the following within this section:

- How will your chosen materials be effectively used?
- How will students engage with the content you provide?
- How will you transition into different activities (both during lessons and between lessons)?
- How will you scaffold activities for students who need additional support?

Make specific reference to the literature explored in this class (and where relevant, previous classes) around teaching for understanding, engaging in disciplinary processes, and inquiry.

Learner Differentiation/Teaching Inclusively Statement - Include a written description (500-750 words) explaining how your short-term plan addresses the interests and needs of all students. For example, how will you address: students with special needs, English-as-additional language learners, gifted students, and students who excel at group work or during independent time? Be sure to consider as many different types of diverse learners as possible – ideas for this section will also be discussed in class.

Assessment Plan – Provide a clearly articulated assessment plan (750-1000 words) that details your requirements to ensure that students apply what you want them to learn in ways that show deep understanding. Consider the following prompts:

- How will you know that students understand what it is you are trying to teach them?
- How will you adapt your teaching based on formative assessment data collected during lessons?
- What will you accept as evidence that students understand what was taught to them?
- How does your chosen assessment demonstrate a deep understanding of your curricular outcomes?
- Will you allow for a model of assessment that teaches to mastery? What does this look like for you?

Assessment Practices – Discuss the practicalities of your short-term plan in relation to the ways it has built in effective formative-assessment strategies including formative feedback loops and a summative performance of understanding (750-1000 words). Include assessment from the lessons and supplemental activities.

CRITERIA FOR ASSESSMENT OF LEARNING TASK 3 (A rubric based on these criteria will be on D2L)

Some of the criteria used to design the finalized rubric will include the following:

- A skillfully designed short-term learning and assessment plan that engages students on issues and problems central to language arts, connecting to their lives, and the world outside of school.
- The short-term plan explores significant ideas and themes that are powerfully articulated through the resources, activities and assessments used in the learning and assessment plans.
- The questions guiding the short-term plan are thought-provoking and intellectually engaging and will initiate discussion and debate. The question(s) clearly call for higher-order thinking, such as analysis, inference, evaluation, and prediction. Question(s) cannot be effectively answered by recall alone.
- The short-term plan clearly defines a range of skill/processes, values/attitudes, knowledge/understanding outcomes that are directly linked to the Alberta's Program of Studies. The learning and assessment plans engage students and clearly define what they need to be able to do.
- Desired knowledge/skills/values, big ideas/enduring understandings are strongly linked to performance task/s requiring students to apply knowledge to show deep understanding.
- A variety of formative (and summative) assessments are woven into the short-term plan to strengthen student understanding and inform instructional decision-making.

THE EXPECTATION OF EXCELLENCE IN PROFESSIONAL WORK

Please review the Academic Calendar carefully. It describes the program and provides detailed schedules and important dates. It contains information on expectations for student work and professional conduct. In addition, procedures are described regarding concerns about student performance in the program. Please pay especially careful attention to details and descriptions in the following topic areas:

The Importance of Attendance and Participation in Every Class

As this is a professional program, experiences are designed with the expectation that all members will be fully involved in all classes and in all coursework experiences. As you are a member of a learning community your contribution is vital and highly valued, just as it will be when you take on the professional responsibilities of being a teacher. We expect that you will not be absent from class with the exception of documented instances of personal or family illness or religious requirements.

Engagement in Class Discussion and Inquiry

Another reason for the importance of attendance and participation in every class is that the course involves working with fellow students to share ideas and thinking. For example, in each class, you will work with a small group to engage fellow students in discussions on work being considered in class. You will also help other groups by providing ideas for scholarly inquiry in assignments. If you find that you are experiencing difficulties as a group collaborating, please inform the instructor.

EXPECTATIONS FOR WRITING

All written assignments will be assessed, at least partly, on writing skills. Writing skills include not only surface correctness (grammar, punctuation, sentence structure, etc.) but also general clarity and organization. Sources used in research papers must be properly documented. If you need help with your writing, you may use the writing support services in the Learning Commons. For further information, please refer to the official online University of Calgary Calendar, Academic Regulations, E. Course Information, E.2: Writing Across the Curriculum: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html>

LATE SUBMISSIONS

All late submissions of assignments must be discussed with the instructor prior to the due date. Students may be required to provide written documentation of extenuating circumstances (e.g., statutory declaration, doctor's note, a note from the University of Calgary Wellness Centre, obituary notice). A deferral of up to 30 days may be granted at the discretion of the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Programs prior to the end of the course with accompanying written evidence.

ISSUES WITH GROUP TASKS

With respect to group work, if your group is having difficulty collaborating effectively, please contact the instructor immediately. If a group is unable to collaborate effectively or discuss course materials in a timely manner, the instructor may re-assign members to different groups or assign individual work for completion.
