Part B: Thesis-Based and Course-Base Student policy

Path: University of Calgary Calendar 2022-2023 -> Tuition and General Fees -> P.1 Undergraduate and Graduate Fees -> P.1.2 Graduate Tuition and General Fees

Thesis-Based Students

Students in a thesis-based degree (master's or doctoral) program are assessed annual tuition fees. All tuition fees are pro-rated over four terms: one-third in Fall, one-third in Winter, one-sixth in Spring and one-sixth in Summer.

Students in thesis programs who register in courses with differential fees or additional program fee will be required to pay the extra fees in addition to the thesis tuition rates.

Course-Based Students

Students in most course-based graduate programs pay tuition fees on a per course basis. Some programs may charge additional program fees (refer to the Program-Specific Fee table).

Many course-based programs charge differential fees. Students who take courses with a differential rate are required to pay the differential fee.

The fees below apply to all programs unless a differential rate is specified in P.1.2.1 Graduate Program-Specific Fees.

Part C: Graduate Student General Fees

Path: University of Calgary Calendar 2022-2023 -> Tuition and General Fees -> P.1 Undergraduate and Graduate Fees -> P.1.2 Graduate Tuition and General Fees (note: information located at bottom of page)

General fees are assessed on either a per-term or annual basis depending on the type of fee. All registered students must pay the fees as assessed.
